Class Registration

8:00 am - 1:00 pm

HANDS-ON DESIGN WORKSHOPS: 9 am - 12 pm

► The Ultimate Hand-Tied Wedding Bouquet Workshop

Instructor: Noel Tribbey, AIFD

Multiple-award winning designer and nationally known showman, Noel Tribbey, AIFD, will demonstrate how to select the right combination of flowers, foliage, colors and textures for that ultra romantic look that seems to be on every brides' Pinterest page. This old-world inspired bouquet design class will feature the tools you need to create a light weight, yet full looking and flowing bouquet. Noel will instruct one-on-one the do's and don'ts when selling hand-tied bouquets. Pricing and consulting tips are part of this exciting hands-on opportunity. Three hour class including demonstrations and critique. Please bring your own floral tools, layered clothing and comfortable shoes.

► Fun with Armatures – Easy Ways To Create Structures Using Everyday Materials

Instructor: Tony Alvarez AIFD, CCF, EMC, Floral Phenomenon

Armatures for floral designs needn't be intimidating structures for the advanced floral designer. Join us in this fast paced workshop where we will share some tips and techniques for making creative armatures from materials readily available to every designer and show you innovative structures you can create at every skill level. Bring your tools and let's get inspired.

► How to Embellish Orchids for Profit

Instructor: Sandy Villa AIFD, CFD, CCF, Mission Hills Florist

In this class you will learn techniques to increase your profit margin by dressing up your orchids. Set your shop apart from others as a design source for all that is original and creative! Please bring your own tools.

► Illuminated Floral Party Lanterns

Instructor: Sandy Lesnewsky, Mission

College

In this class you will learn how to incorporate floral design to create an amazing lantern that is suitable for parties, picnics, weddings and home holiday décor. Each person will leave with a completed floral arrangement incorporating their lantern. Various types of paper and fabric that are suitable for this project will be discussed as well as an easy formula to produce multiples of the design. All supplies that are needed will be furnished – you just need to bring your floral design tool kit.

HANDS-ON DESIGN WORKSHOPS: 1 pm - 4 pm

► Kokedama – Moss Ball Planting – An Updated Design Take on an Ancient Japanese Art Form

Instructor: Tony Alvarez AIFD, CCF, EMC, Floral Phenomenon

Kokedama is one of the hottest interior plant design trends in 2017. This Ancient art form is taking on a new life with designers and florists who want to add a new dimension to plantscapes in homes and offices. In this class we learn simple planting techniques as well as innovative ways to update these beauties with decorative elements and holiday décor. Bring your tools please.

Becoming a California Certified Florist

Our mission is to establish, promote and maintain a program of professional floral design certification, through education to employees and owners of floral businesses and to the public in the State of California, and to provide members with continuing education programs and services.

The California Certified Florist (CCF) Program recognizes proficiency of professional knowledge and expertise. Testing is based on suggested reading materials and practical design experience. The CCF certificate is maintained and renewable by keeping annual dues current with The California State Floral Association (CSFA), attending professional events, and participation in continuing education workshops.

Applicants may pursue certification independently or may be sponsored by their employer. Sponsored applicants who attain certification will receive a certificate for their employer to proudly display. Certification requires the applicants successfully pass a one-day exam consisting of written and practical components. The exam is scheduled annually and may be held in various locations throughout the state. Maintaining your CCF certification occurs when CCF annual dues are kept current and any continuing education requirements are met.

California Certified Florist (CCF) certification is open to:

- Retail Florists and their Employees
- Party and Event Designers
- Freelance Floral Designers
- Floristry Students
